

ENERGY POLICY

Maltexco S.A. is a leading company in the production of malted barley and cereal-based products that meet the needs of the brewing and food industries.

The Energy Management System aligns with and is consistent with the organization's overall objectives, and therefore commits to:

- Providing the necessary resources and ensuring the availability of information to our employees, enabling us to achieve our energy objectives and goals.
- Complying with legal, regulatory, and other requirements related to energy efficiency, energy use, and energy consumption.
- Supporting and improving the procurement of products, services, and design activities, considering energy efficiency.
- Continuously improving our energy performance.

This policy is well-known, applies at all levels of the organization, and forms the foundation of our energy management system.
